Errors and omissions expected (E&OE) is a phrase used to reduce legal liability for potentially incorrect or incomplete information supplied in a contractually related document such as a quotation or specification. Whilst we try our best not to make errors, if you do spot a pricing error, you will still need to pay the correct price. Pricing within this brochure may be subject to change.

As you browse this brochure, please note:
Due to the nature of natural stone and terracotta, there will always be colour variation from stone to stone, along with chips and other organic blemishes. Allowances should also be made for size and thickness - particularly so with our more rustic products. These features are an intrinsic part of natural materials, adding beauty, charm and character that will be unique to your home.

The colour of our stone and tiles can vary slightly from the images in this brochure, due to natural variation in stone batches and the limitations of photography and print. To see more images and to order samples, please visit capietra.com

Green Screen

For 2021/22, there's one colour palette that is here to stay.

We're talking all shades of green and whether it's an organic hue that brings the outside in or the rich jewel shade of emerald, green is the perfect complement to all styles of interior. This on-trend tone can be used in both classic and contemporary homes and it's an ideal basis for introducing a biophilic theme or oasis of calm into a hectic household.

Mix it up with wood to help bring the outside in and think natural materials such as rattan, raffia and basketweave to keep it simple. Be inspired by nature and all its flora and fauna to create a tranquil retreat and use Ca' Pietra tiles to form a beautiful backdrop of varying green shades or pick out accents with tiles that feature subtle hints.

We love green teamed with pink too, the perfect on-trend

Colour Pop

mix, and it also looks eye-catching with pops of vibrant red as a statement piece such as a squishy armchair or footstool in pure scarlet.

Darker greens also look stunning when teamed with brushed gold brassware, especially in kitchens and bathrooms. Think green wall tiles in interesting shapes and palettes and keep the fittings simple and straight-lined for instant impact.

You can also use paint to create wow factor or blend in with its surroundings. Ca' Pietra's Proper Good Paint™ comes in huge range of colours including Ander's Rock, Aspen's Forest and Grace's Green. Use in kitchens, bathrooms or utility rooms for a sense of nature and organic charm or give living spaces and bedrooms a calming feel, perfect for relaxing after a long day.

Trend Spotlight

Mix & Match

The trend of mixing and matching materials, styles, colours, shapes and more is one that is perfectly suited to Ca' Pietra. Whether it's a decorative design, a colour pop or a stylish shape, there are so many tile variations that there's something for every interior.

We think you get the best results when you mix it up and choose clashing or contrasting tiles. Push the boundaries, break all the rules and go for tiles that you love!

Here's our pick of our favourite mix & match looks...

Three really is the magic number when it comes to mixing materials

OPPOSITES ATTRACT

Mixing materials, colours, textiles, shapes and sizes can all achieve something truly wonderful and totally unique. Take this shower area with a mix of our Bamboo and Marble Luxe tiles in similar colours but completely different formats and patterns. It just works, especially when teamed with an on-trend brushed gold shower set.

SEE BLUE

We love this tranquil bathroom space, which uses our Piazza Porcelain Geo Antricitia for the floor with Marble Luxe Porcelain Palissandro Blue on the walls. The matt terrazzo flooring is perfectly on trend on its own yet when mixed with the marble-effect large format porcelain on the walls, it creates a serene space perfect for an invigorating wake up shower or a relaxing rain spray after a long day.

HOLIDAY HUES

We also love the Mediterranean effect that this shower space creates using our Pottery and Atlas tiles. Taking the theme of blue, the tiles instantly go together by picking up on this accent shade, even though they couldn't be more different. So be bold, be brave, and do whatever you want to create the interior of your dreams.

MONOCHROME MOOD

In this monochrome bathroom with open shower area, Marble Luxe Porcelain Noir is teamed with Delicate Porcelain to create a classic black and white theme that oozes Art Deco chic. By selecting a simple colour palette but opting for contrasting tile sizes and patterns, it achieves a timeless blend that will never go out of style. Flooring is our Zen Marble Grand Basket Weave Marble Mosaic in a honed finish. Mixing natural marble with marble-effect porcelain is a great way of working to a budget without losing any of the luxe look.

COLOUR CLASH

Bringing a sense of the outside in, this shower space features contrasting colours, formats, shapes and prints to achieve something truly unique. Walls are clad in our California Jade, an onyx-effect porcelain with jewel-like charm, while the floor is laid with Medina Hexagon Porcelain Rosa, a delicate blush pink that works surprisingly well with green. Gold accents for the fittings and brassware complement both tiles beautifully.

Inspired By Instagram

We love to peak through someone's home thanks to Instagram. Here, we share some of our favourites...

Designer:
@design_at_nineteen

With a little careful planning, even the smallest of bathrooms can become a thing of beauty. That's what Justin Coakley of @design_at_nineteen discovered when he turned the loft bathroom of his London home into a stunning sanctuary. Justin used Long Island Marble brick tiles in a honed finish to give the space its monochrome backdrop then added matt black shower fittings, wall light and accessories to complete the look.

Long Island Marble Wicker Mosaic

Homeowner:
@mjhousetohome

For Marion of @mjhousetohome's Edwardian property renovation, she chose to design the two bathrooms in totally different styles and colour palettes. The main bathroom features our Long Island Marble Brick in a honed finish, creating a classic and timeless look. Marion also chose to finish the tiling off with matching skirting and dado and the end result is simply stunning.

As a contrast to her luxurious marble bathroom, Marion designed her en-suite in a blush pink shade with on-trend gold and matt black fixtures and fittings. Our Carter Rose ceramic tiles give the shower area impact and a playful look, which has more than a touch of hotel chic about it.

Long Island Marble Brick

Designer:
@sunny_inside_out_interiors

With its practical Shaker-style utility room in a soothing green shade next to a contrasting blue and pink kitchen, this stunning country property features Neranjo Limestone for the flooring in a rustic tumbled finish. Hardwearing, durable and tough enough to cope with everyday wear and tear, the natural stone surface is the perfect complement to the classic style of the rest of the home. It may be medieval in origin but this house is anything but stuck in the past.

Marlborough Terracotta Parquet

Bloggers:
@the_brixton_home_boys

This gorgeous ground floor garden flat was totally reconfigured in late 2019. The homeowners wanted to recreate that special Mediterranean feeling and after much searching, found the perfect flooring solution with Marlborough Terracotta Parquet tiles. The kitchen-living space in the rear extension is eclectic, charming and homely, and the perfect space for entertaining.

Mono Hex Porcelain Daisy

Blogger:
@oneslowsunday

Victorian America was the influence behind Imogen Coles' bathroom renovation, which features Mono Hex Daisy tiles for the floor. The design has transported the bathroom to a perfect blend of old meets new. Imogen has had her eye on the tiles for some time and was delighted to be able to use them within her new bathroom scheme. They are the perfect design detail that pairs beautifully with a bespoke painted bath and vanity unit, brass taps and shower, creating a modern update on the classic monochrome look.

Blogger:
@feather_and_faff_interiors

Anna Marie Smith of @feather_and_faff_interiors knew that turning an old dining room into a combined utility and boot room would be the perfect practical space at the rear of her house. Anna chose Chatham Oak Porcelain wood-effect for the flooring, as it's ideal for coping with muddy paw prints and will retain heat well when underfloor heating is installed. Combined with Ca' Pietra's Proper Good Paint™ in Charlotte's Whisper for the bespoke cabinetry and wall panelling above the sink and Ren's White for the ceiling, walls and lower wall panels, the effect is a warm, cosy space where Anna and her family can remove boots after a long walk and get the laundry done, too.

Chatham Oak Porcelain

Writer:
@lisa_dawson

Lisa chose Brompton field tiles to create a chequerboard effect for her hallway floor, as this was perfectly in keeping with the original architecture of the property. The black and white design also helps to lighten up the hallway, especially when teamed with the white walls, mirrors and colourful painted doors. Carefully chosen artwork for the walls and plenty of bench seating for family and friends to sit all combine to make this entrance hall a warm, vibrant space that's as comfortable as it is stylish.

Parisian Café Porcelain Tri Black

Brewhouse Porcelain Brick

Designers:
@simplybathroomsLtd

For anyone thinking about whether or not to mix and match tiles in the bathroom, this design from Simply Bathrooms shows just how effective and eclectic the end result can be. Part of a unique riverside lodge on the banks of the River Thames, the bathroom belongs to a couple who wanted a quirky, characterful vibe with a mix of classic and contemporary touches. The result combines our monochrome Parisian Café porcelain tiles for the walls - walk-in shower included - with Brewhouse terracotta-look porcelain from the new National Trust Tile Collection for the floor.

Lily Pad Porcelain Peacock

Homeowner:
@yvonne_loves_paris_and_kit

Putting your own style on something really makes a house a home and for Yvonne Oliver, choosing our Lily Pad porcelain tiles in Peacock was the start of an attic bathroom renovation that really packs a punch. The tiles have been used to great effect, highlighting the spacious shower area and perfectly complementing the roll-top bath. An eclectic space full of vintage style and charm, the new-look bathroom has helped to give this period property a new lease of life.

Corfe

LIMESTONE • ETCHED

The underlying grey in Corfe limestone is 'bleached' by the etching process, and so it does look quite different to the honed and the tumbled options. The etching gives the stone a good grip finish for wet and exterior use as well as a fantastic tactile look that works well in contemporary interiors.

NATURAL STONE PAVING

Farley

LIMESTONE • SEASONED

The tones may be soft and muted, but the stone is as hard as nails – virtually indestructible, in fact. The natural riven face of the stone is smoothed off, then 'seasoned' to give the appearance of a time-worn, country house floor. A fantastic price for a memorably good limestone.

COBBLE LIMESTONE • TUMBLED & ETCHED

Grout

Resin Cement Grout

Introducing our grout collection. You've picked your tiles now enjoy picking a grout that either complements or contrasts. The design options are endless. Just remember that if you're using a natural material that we would advise steering clear of grouts that are too dark as they can stain the surface of the stone and remember to read up about sealing your tiles too.

Why choose resin-cement grout?

Applied on interior and exterior walls and floors, resin-cement grout can be used with porcelain and ceramic tiles as well as glass mosaic, natural stone, marble and composite materials, even thin tiles. This blended grout of epoxy resin and cement is easy to apply with the added benefit of being non-porous, resilient and fine-grained.

Used in homes, commercial and industrial projects, it copes easily with hardwearing heavy traffic as well as swimming pools and water features where thermal shock and freezing could occur. Resin-cement grout is also compatible with underfloor heating.

Use for high-performance grouting of joints ranging from 0mm to 20mm and enjoy the smooth, seamless finish, solidity, water-repellent nature with a water-drop effect.

There are so many reasons to choose resin-cement grout. As well as being water-repellent with very low water absorption, it offers high surface hardness and is extremely resistant to acids. It also provides colour uniformity for your walls or floors while grout joints are ultra-hygienic thanks to resin-cement's natural antibacterial properties. What's more, it is easy to clean and care for and it can be recycled, avoiding waste disposal costs and helping our environment at the same time.

Patterns

Products that are supplied in 'patterns' consist of combinations of set size flagstones, which enable you to follow classic patterns such as American, Dutch, French, Greek, and Spanish as illustrated here.

This means you can lay your natural stone or man-made floor to these patterns without the waste associated with cutting uniform tiles to appropriate sizes.

So, for example, one set of 'Dutch pattern' consists of 11 stones, and 3.33m² in total. Some of our products (primarily natural stone) are available in different widths and random lengths, so that you can choose whether to lay floors in your own free form pattern, or in a regimented design (see fig 1).

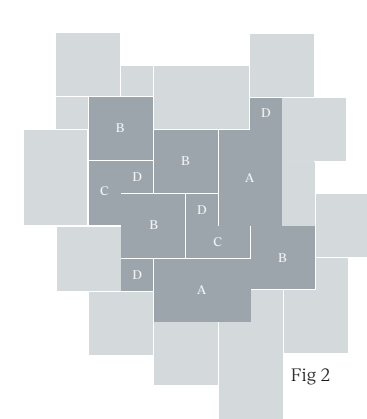

When buying a pattern you must buy at least one complete set of tiles and therefore a minimum number of square metres, depending on the exact number of tiles within that pattern.

Stone & Tile Types

Natural Stone

Perfectly imperfect – the beauty of natural stone means that there will be variations from piece to piece. There is no such thing as a “perfect” piece of stone, which is what we love most about the unique nature of our products in this collection.

Limestone

Geology
A sedimentary rock mostly formed during the Jurassic period by deposits of shells collecting on the sea-bed and being compressed over time.

Key quality
Shell and fossil patterns and an infinite range of shades – usually from cream through to yellow, but also encompassing white and black.

Marble

Geology
The geological process that produces the prominent veins and quartz in the surface of marble is called recrystallization. The vivid colours vary depending on the prevalent minerals in the area from which it is quarried.

Key quality
Very hard and very smooth, with myriad colour tones and markings that are beautiful and mesmerising to look at.

Sandstone

Geology
A sedimentary rock made up of compacted grains of sand, bound together by a secondary mineral such as calcite, clay or silica.

Key quality
Hard-wearing, frost-resistant and low-slip make it ideal for outdoors.

Slate

Geology
A fine-grained rock derived from an original sedimentary rock made of clay or volcanic ash.

Key quality
The natural, slight undulations in the stone (caused by the way it is split when quarried) give it instant character. The dark colour makes it easy to maintain.

Tonal variation

Natural stone almost always has some tonal variation from tile to tile and slab to slab. Natural stone and terracotta can carry slight chips and other blemishes. Allowances should be made for variations in size and thickness. To assess the natural variation of stone, we always recommend that you stand at least two metres away and look at the overall effect rather than each tile or slab, just as you would view a work of art by looking at the whole picture, before you start to inspect the brushstrokes and the detail.

Tiles

Porcelain

Porcelain tiles are made from a mixture of clays and minerals and fired at a very high temperature. This means that they are extremely hard wearing and very strong.

Tip: Due to the nature of the manufacturing process, porcelain tiles may be subject to a very slight ‘bow’ along the length of larger tiles (this can normally be corrected using a specialist clip system). This slight bowing, which will fall within European Standards (and please be assured that all our tiles are CE compliant), can cause slight ‘lipping’ between one tile and the next. If you wish to minimize the effect of this, we recommend that tiles should be laid square, or staggered by not more than a third of a tile length, rather than laying brick-bond.

Ceramic

Ceramic tiles are made using a clay based material that is then decorated with an undercoat. Once this has been applied, a glaze is then poured over the top. Ceramic tiles are typically recommended for use on walls only (unless specified that they can be used on floors) due to their strength. Crackle glaze ceramic tiles will require sealing.

Glass

Glass has its own beauty, but can also be transformed by the natural or ambient light with sparkles, reflections and fascinating changes of colour. It’s easy to maintain and non-porous. Some of our mosaics are made up of recycled glass, making it a sustainable choice.

Rectified & Non-Rectified Edges

Tiles are normally pressed in a mould then fired which causes them to shrink, so most larger format porcelain (30 x 60 upwards) and some ceramic tiles are then sawn before packing to ensure that they do not vary too much in size, enabling a tighter grout joint, this process is known as rectified. Smaller format tiles are rarely rectified because they shrink less and do not require this extra process, they are known as non-rectified and recommend a 3mm minimum grout joint and spacers need to be used with care or not at all.

For any larger format tiles we offer are non-rectified you will find this information on the product page and we do not recommend mixing them for example in a chequer pattern.

Glossary Of Finishes

Finishes applied to natural stone

Our stones come in a range of finishes – these may be for aesthetic or practical effect. In a bathroom, for example, you may want a more textured finish for better slip resistance. If you are restoring a heritage property, an ageing process such as seasoned will help you to match existing materials.

Please note these descriptions are only a guide because every stone is unique and reacts to the finishing process differently.

Distressed

The edges of the stone are chipped by hand and cushioned using diamond grinding pads. This process gives a time-worn appearance to the stone that is more refined than our seasoned finish.

Etched

The face of the stone is sand-blasted to make for a low-slip finish; perfect for external and wet areas. The process gives a 'bleached' look that gives it a more contemporary appearance. An etched finish is often used internally and can be used to create a seamless look from inside to outdoors.

Handmade

Refers to our terracotta collection, where raw clay is worked into moulds by hand, left to dry and baked.

Honed

The sawn surface of the stone is planed by machine using high-pressure diamond pads to create a smooth face. Depending on its hardness, the surface will be left with a satin or more matt finish. The edges are diamond-sawn and typically contain imperfections. Once grouted, these imperfections blend into the stone for a truly natural effect.

Reclaimed/Recycled

Genuinely reclaimed products, often more than 100 years old. Each tile varies and requires a little more attention on site.

Riven

A riven finish is naturally split along the strata of the stone to create an authentic surface that will vary from stone to stone. There is normally a high variation in thickness with riven stones (unless they are calibrated at source). In order to achieve a relatively even surface, you can use the adhesive bed to reduce this variation. Riven stone tends to disguise the wear and tear of everyday family life.

Satino

The stone undergoes a high-pressure process which brushes the surface, uncovering its natural character and adding an extra dimension to the product. Edges are usually straight with a little rounding.

Seasoned/Heritage

Heavily tumbled edges and a textured surface, which is either naturally-occurring or applied to give the stone a rugged, flagstone effect.

Tumbled

The stones are individually placed in a jumbo rotating vat, which is full of pebbles, to create naturally soft, round edges – much like pebbles on a beach. Great for replicating a 'lived in' look that is not too rustic.

Tumbled and Etched

This is an extra etching process that is applied to tumbled stone to increase slip resistance. The stone undergoes a washing process that etches the surface, to improve it so that it retains its natural warmth and colour.

Velvet / Natural

The stone is first etched producing a 'bleached' look and then undergoes a satino process which gives it a tactile, velvety feel. This finish works effectively in both traditional and modern interiors.

Weathered

The result of an intensive process where the edges of the stone are chipped, exposing an open-grain surface. A weathered finish authentically replicates the appearance of ancient flagstones.

Worn

This is a smoothing process that is applied to riven stone by hand or machine. The process grinds down to the natural undulations of the surface and creates the effect of old flagstones.

Finishes applied to porcelain and ceramic

Matt

Low sheen with some texture or graining. Varies depending on tile.

Satin

Low sheen and smooth to touch. Varies depending on tile.

Gloss

A shiny finish glaze. Some glazes are designed with a crackle effect and require sealing. Polished finishes are more susceptible to scratching, especially floors.

Polished

Highly polished by mechanical process. Polished finishes are more susceptible to scratching, especially floors.

Textured

Normally matt with some relief to the surface.

Exterior Installation

Please note these are very general guidelines and not definitive instructions. The issuer of these guidelines cannot be held responsible for installation. It is always recommended that a qualified and professional tiler should take responsibility for the installation of all stone and tile products. We recommend that your installer has adequate understand of how to install our artisanal materials to ensure the best results.

On receipt of your order

When you receive your order, check that you have all of your tiles and that they are in good condition as any discrepancies cannot be resolved after installation.

These are brief guidelines for working with natural stones and man-made paving. This general guidance does not imply any guarantee by Ca' Pietra. We always recommend that a qualified and professional installer should take responsibility for the specification and installation of all stone and tile products.

Current and appropriate industry standards and codes of practice should be observed in all instances. However, if you do decide to install the stone or tiles yourself, we strongly recommend that you do plenty of research into materials and methods, and seek the best advice on how to carry out the installation.

1. When you take delivery of your order

Check that you have all your slabs and that they're in good condition. Remember, with natural or handcrafted products there will always be some variations in colour tone, veining, surface texture and natural characteristics.

Tip: Keep the tiles on a level, stable surface, stored vertically to avoid any risk of cracking.

2. Before you install

Tips:

- Wipe both sides of the tile clean with a sponge and clean water before installation to remove dust. This will ensure good adhesion.
- Don't install slabs in freezing or cold conditions.
- Give yourself a dry run by laying your slabs or tiles as they will eventually be laid. This enables you to check you have the correct number and size of slabs and colour blending.
- When installing a flagstone, it is important to ensure it is laid the right way up (one way to identify the top, is to look at the sides of the slab – which usually taper inwards, so that the top is slightly wider than the underside). If in doubt it's always best to ask a stone expert.
- With natural stones, randomly select and mix tiles from the different boxes or crates you receive to ensure a tonal blend across the entirety of the new surface and avoid any colour banding.

3. General preparation

The golden rule is: tiles must always be 'solid bedded' – in other words, avoid any cavities underneath the material.

The bed should support the full slab, not just the corners or in dots/dabs. Do not 'spot' bed as this can cause 'through bed staining' and will weaken the integrity of the paving. (Please note that precise standards, falls, bed thicknesses and other specifications may vary dependent on the actual application. You should always refer to appropriate and current standards and codes of practice.)

Cutting tiles

Tiles can be cut using a diamond tipped blade – ideally a water-cooled machine for the cleanest cutting. There are different blades for natural stone and for porcelain so it's important to have the correct one.

Levelling your tiles

Thin tiles (up to 1cm) should be levelled using hand pressure only.

A rubber mallet hammer can be used for thicker, more robust slabs.

4. Substrate preparation and installing the tiles

There are several different methods of installation for external paving. The two most common methods are:

Option 1: If the external works are a continuation of the internal tiling – lay a structural concrete screed, to the appropriate current standards, with the required sub-base. Ensure that adequate falls, cross falls and intersections are accurately created in the screed to fine tolerances, for good levels of drainage. The tiles can then be installed using a flexible thick-bed floor tile adhesive (suitable for external use) following the same tiling standards as internal flooring.

A 10mm notched trowel will provide a 5mm finished adhesive-bed thickness. Leave 6mm wide expansion joints in accordance with current BSEN requirements and at changes of plane. You should fill these joints with exterior grade mastic, matched to the grout/joint colouration.

Option 2: If you are laying external works as 'slab paving' rather than tiling – the appropriate sub-base should be laid and well compacted. For good stability this is usually an even 10cm-thick, compacted layer of type 1 granular aggregate (40mm to dust). For most domestic applications a sub-base of 10cm should be sufficient. However, the paving design must be based on ground conditions as well as type and frequency of anticipated loads.

As previously described, falls, cross-falls and intersections must be carefully formed. You should incorporate a minimum fall of 1.25% (1 in 80) and crossfall of 2.5% (1 in 40) in the sub-layer construction to provide adequate surface-water run-off. Use a ratio between 4:1 and 6:1 of sharp sand, cement and plasticiser (to BSEN requirements). Prepare a base of mortar beneath the slabs – normally around 30-50mm thick.

Stone & Tile Internal Installation

Please note these are very general guidelines and not definitive instructions. The issuer of these guidelines cannot be held responsible for installation. It is always recommended that a qualified and professional tiler should take responsibility for the installation of all stone and tile products. We recommend that your installer has adequate understand of how to install our artisanal materials to ensure the best results.

We always recommend ordering 10-15% extra material for wastage when installing, if your order has suffered any minor damage in transit, we suggest you keep these tiles aside for cutting.

On receipt of your order

When you receive your order, please check that you have all your tiles and that they are in good condition as any discrepancies cannot be resolved after installation.

Some general points

- Prior to installation you should store your tiles in a dry place.
- Do not install tiles during very hot weather.
- Avoid direct sunlight on to natural stone during installation (prior to sealing the tiles).
- Never use acids or undiluted alkaline solutions to clean natural stone, unless for troubleshooting.
- Always ensure that surfaces are properly sealed on natural stone and crackle glazed tiles before grouting.
- Do not cover newly installed surfaces with non-breathable membranes such as self-adhesive plastic sheeting or plywood sheets. If surfaces need to be covered after installation, use a good-quality decorator's sheet or a thin specialist protective card instead.
- Always refer to the manufacturer's guidelines on the packaging of installation materials or data sheets, available on request.
- It is important to shuffle your tiles from pack to pack before you install them, to ensure an even blend of tones, this is particularly important for natural stone and more artisanal products.

It is known in this industry that porcelain tiles and paving exceeding 75cm in length and/or width have a slight bow to them. This bowing occurs as a natural result of the drying process – it's a characteristic of the product and not classed as a fault. When tiling with a brick bond pattern with large format porcelain tiles, offset each row from the previous row by no more than one third of the tile's length. This will ensure that the bowing does not adversely affect the look of your tiled area, however we suggest you check your particular tile before you install and decide what is best for you. We also recommend using levelling clips, as this will ensure a good, finished result is achieved.

Prior to installation

Both sides of the tile should be wiped clean of any dust before installation and the top surface should be wiped again after installation and before grouting takes place.

The subfloor or wall should be a flat, level, and stable surface to tile on to.

If tiling over a timber surface, the floor will need overlaying with a specialist tile backerboard. You can also use this product to tile on to timber-framed walls, we do not recommend tiling onto plaster board, especially in wet areas.

We recommend to pre-tile prime all surfaces that are going to be tiled using our Pre-Tile Primer, diluted as per the instructions on the packaging.

If you are tiling on to walls and floors in wet areas, we recommend you fully tank (waterproof) prior to tiling with a specific paint on tanking system.

If you are tiling on to an underfloor, heated screed, or a newly poured screed (once it's fully dried and cured, please refer to the manufacturers' instructions regarding this) the floor will need pre-tile priming and overlaying with a movement decoupling membrane such as our Structured Decoupling Matting.

This will help prevent any shrinkage or cracking that may occur in the screed being transferred through to the tiles.

Cutting Stone & Tiles

Natural stone and tiles can be cut using a diamond blade – ideally a water-cooled machine to keep dust to a minimum.

Some porcelain, glass and ceramic tiles can be cut with a scribe and break type cutter.

Grout joints, spacers & levelling clips

Grout joint width is a personal choice however when using spacers extra care must apply when tiling natural stone, non-rectified porcelain and smaller format tiles because these products have higher tolerances in size variation that can cause some challenges when using set size spacers.

When installing natural stone in one of our random repeating patterns (French, Dutch or Spanish for example), we advise dry laying a pattern set to establish the required grout width to make the pattern flow, with such patterns it is normal that these joints will vary so it is best to avoid using set size spacers and use wedges/packers. Once grouted this variation will be hardly noticeable and part of the feature of a random looking floor.

Commonly known as LASH clips, this stands for Level, Align, Space & Hold. Levelling clips are a two-part system consisting of a clip and a wedge, ensuring your tiles are absolutely level without any lipping or exposed edges that can be caused by slightly bowed tiles. They can align tiles from 9-15mm thick ensuring even grout joints and can be used for both wall and floor tiling. The holes in the base of the clip allow for the adhesive to pass through, ensuring no voids are left under the tile.

Installation

Use a good-quality, flexible, white, tile-adhesive, such as our Premium White Semi Rapid Set (carefully follow any instructions on the packaging) and apply with a notched trowel.

Ensure 100% adhesive coverage of each tile and the subbase, never dot and dab.

Remove excess adhesive with a damp cloth quickly before it hardens or stains the tile.

Level the tiles using hand pressure only, where possible. Using a mallet or rubber hammer could cause cracking.

Preparing before sealing and grouting – natural stone and terracotta

Clean and condition the surface using a diluted solution of alkaline cleaner such as our Deep Clean (diluted 1:10 with water). This will help ensure that any dust, dirt, and grime that may have accumulated during the installation process is removed. A properly cleaned and prepared surface will improve the efficiency of the sealer.

Sealing your tiles – natural stone, crackle glaze and terracotta

Once your tiles are installed you will need to use an impregnating sealer for protection prior to grouting such as our Stain Block (or for crackle glaze tiles a crackle glaze sealant).

Preparing before grouting – porcelain and ceramic tiles

Clean the surface using fresh clean water. This will help ensure that any dust or grit that may have accumulated during the installation process is removed, preventing the risk of scratching the tiles when being grouted.

Grouting

We recommend using lighter coloured grouts for most products, in particular natural stone and matt/textured glazed tiles, rather than black or bright coloured as these can cause staining on light materials, this staining is particularly hard to remove.

- Ensure you have selected a grout product that is suitable for use with the chosen tile material and desired joint width.
- Ensure that you wipe away any excess grout with a sponge and regularly change the water before the grout dries. Avoid raking out the grout in the joints and do not allow water to puddle.
- Before the grout has fully set wash again with a damp sponge to ensure as much residue is removed with a solution of alkaline cleaner such as our Deep Clean (diluted with 1:20 with water)

Finishing after grouting – natural stone and terracotta

Natural finish: (Typically smooth finish materials) Apply a final coat of impregnating sealer making sure to cover grout joints as well, you will then need to remove any excess unabsorbed sealer after approx. 30 mins depending on atmospheric conditions.

OR

Satin finish: (Typically for more rustic and porous materials, especially terracotta) Further to the above and only if the stone is not used in a wet area, you can apply a surface coating such as our Stone Shield or Bees Wax Polish. This will offer further protection; it will help fill the natural pours and gives the product an attractive patina.

Finishing after grouting – porcelain and ceramic tile

For crackle glaze apply a second coat of crackle glaze sealant.

Dry buff the tiles with a clean cloth to remove any final grout residue.

There is the option to further seal the grout joints if desired using our Stain Block Eco. When using this remove any excess liquid immediately.

On very matt porcelain floors you can apply our Stone Shield in non-wet areas to help ease the cleaning required and enhance the appearance of the tile.

General care – stone & tiles

As long as you are confident you have selected the right type of product for the space and your lifestyle, caring for your floors and walls doesn't have to be a chore. Here are a few essential steps.

Firstly, keep floors as free as possible of loose dust and grit with regular vacuuming or sweeping. This will greatly reduce the 'sandpaper' effect that can occur on the surface and will reduce dirt getting compacted into the surface and joints. We recommend washing the floor with a damp mop – firstly, to remove the dirt that a vacuum won't pick up, and secondly for hygiene. Avoid using too much water as this tends to spread the dirt from one area to another, whereas a well rung or fibre mop will lift it up.

We strongly recommend that you use specialist cleaning products. The harsh, acidic household products can 'bruise' your stone and break down protective sealants or attack some coloured glazes on tiles.

Ideally, use a product that is PH neutral, bio-degradable, and environmentally friendly. We recommend our All-Clean product. This can be diluted in water for a traditional mopping method or in a ready to use solution for use with microfibre mopping systems for floors and the same product with a mist spray and microfibre cloth for walls.

Avoid using steam cleaners on natural stone – they may clean some surfaces, but the hot steam can remove the sealer and damage the surface over time.

Maintenance – natural stone

Using the correct specialist cleaning product will greatly reduce the frequency of more intensive cleans and reseals.

General wear of the surface from foot traffic over time exposes capillaries, or tiny cracks and these can accumulate dirt and grime. Therefore, we recommend a more intensive clean every 3-4 years, with a heavy-duty product that will dissolve ingrained dirt and grease, such as our Deep Clean.

A common misconception is that every natural stone surface need resealing every few years, but this will depend on the particular stone and its use. You can normally tell if a stone needs resealing by wetting the stone and leaving for around five minutes before wiping off. If the water leaves a mark by darkening the stone this will mean the stone is becoming more porous and would benefit from a top-up.

You should first give it an intensive clean with a product such as Deep Clean, this will help to allow the sealer to penetrate.

If the stone has had a surface coating applied, it is most likely that this is all that will need to be reapplied, not the original impregnating sealer, unless the stone has become extremely porous.

For stones with a natural finish, apply a coat of impregnating sealer such as our Stain Block and wipe off the excess after around 20 minutes and repeat if required. Do not allow any of the product to dry on the surface.

Please note that it is perfectly normal for natural stone to mature with use and time and for its appearance to evolve as part of its intrinsic beauty.
